Policy Dissemination and Review

This policy will be available to parents via the school website and information will be shared throughout the year via the school bulletin. Staff will be familiar with the policy through termly INSET meetings as part of the safeguarding updates and in weekly briefings where necessary. This policy will be formally reviewed each year by the Headmistress and updated as an ongoing process as required. The policy will be reviewed by the Safeguarding Governor on an annual basis.

Rationale and Aims

Mental health is a state of well-being in which every individual realises his or her own potential, can cope with the normal stresses of life, can work productively and fruitfully, and is able to contribute to her or his community (World Health Organisation).

The school aims to promote positive mental health for all pupils. Mental health affects all aspects of a child's development including their cognitive abilities and their emotional wellbeing. Childhood and adolescence are when mental health is developed and patterns are set for the future. For most children, the opportunities to learn is exciting and challenging but they can also give rise to anxiety and stress.

Children may also suffer mental health issues due to circumstances outside school. We are committed to providing a safe and secure environment for our pupils and promoting a climate where pupils feel confident about sharing any concerns they may have.

The school aims to:

- Promote positive mental health and emotional wellbeing for all pupils
- Increase understanding and awareness of common mental health issues
- Alert appropriate staff to early warning signs of mental ill health
- Provide support to staff working with pupils with mental health issues
- Provide support to pupils suffering mental ill health and their peers and parents

Teaching about Mental Health

The skills, knowledge and understanding needed by our pupils to keep themselves and others physically and mentally healthy and safe are included as part of our developmental personal, social and health education (PSHE) curriculum.

The specific content of lessons will be determined by the specific needs of the cohort we're teaching but there will always be an emphasis on enabling pupils to develop the skills, knowledge, understanding, language and confidence to seek help, as needed, for themselves or others.

We follow the PSHE Association Guidance along with Think You Know and Young Minds guidance to ensure that we teach mental health and emotional wellbeing issues in a safe and sensitive manner which helps rather than harms.

In addition all pupils follow the MyHappyMInd programme.

Responsibilities of staff

All staff are responsible for fostering a culture which encourages pupils to openly discuss their problems, including any mental health concerns.

Where a concern about a pupil's mental health is identified, the DSL or Phase Leader will assess the risks to that pupil's welfare and begin a course of action in consultation with the pupil, her parents (where appropriate), other members of staff and Trafford school nurse team (as necessary) to safeguard, support and monitor that pupil. Staff who see pupils on a daily basis (form teachers, subject teachers) are best placed to spot any changes in behaviour and should raise any concerns with the Phase Leader or DSL and record the concern on CPOMs. Staff should familiarise themselves with the risk factors and warning signs.

Staff may become aware of concerns over a pupil's mental health in the following ways:

- A pupil acknowledges that they have a problem and seeks help
- A pupil exhibits consistent disruptive, unusual or withdrawn behaviour
- A parent or another adult reports a concern about a pupil's mental health or behaviour
- Another pupil reports a concern about a pupil's mental health or behaviour

Warning Signs

A child might need help if they:

- Often feel anxious or worried
- Has very frequent expressions of anger or is intensely irritable much of the time
- Has frequent stomach-aches or headaches with no physical explanation
- Are in constant motion; can't sit quietly for any length of time
- Has trouble sleeping, including frequent nightmares
- Loses interest in things they used to enjoy
- Avoids spending time with friends
- Has trouble doing well in school, or academic attainment declines
- Fears overweight gain or loss
- Has low or no energy
- Has spells of intense, inexhaustible activity
- Harms her/himself, such as cutting or burning her/his skin
- Engages in risky, destructive behaviour
- Has thoughts of suicide
- Thinks his/her mind is controlled or out of control; hears voices

Common mental health issues:

Self-harm

Self-harm describes any behaviour where a young person causes harm to themselves in order to cope with thoughts, feelings or experiences they are not able to manage in any other way. It most frequently takes the form of cutting, burning or non-lethal overdoses in adolescents, while younger children and young people with special needs are more likely to pick or scratch at wounds, pull out their hair or bang or bruise themselves.

Depression

Ups and downs are a normal part of life for all of us, but for someone who is suffering from depression these difficulties may be more extreme. Feelings of failure, hopelessness, numbness or sadness may invade their day-today life over an extended period of weeks or months and have a significant impact on their behaviour and ability and motivation to engage in day-to-day activities.

Anxiety, panic attacks and phobias

Anxiety can take many forms in children and young people, and it is something that each of us experiences at low levels as part of normal life. When thoughts of anxiety, fear or panic are repeatedly present over several weeks or months and/or they are beginning to impact on a young person's ability to access or enjoy day to day life, intervention is needed.

Obsessions and compulsions

Obsessions describe intrusive thoughts or feelings that enter our minds which are disturbing or upsetting; compulsions are the behaviours we carry out in order to manage those thoughts or feelings. For example, a young person may be constantly worried that their house will burn down if they don't turn off all switches before leaving the house. They may respond to these thoughts by repeatedly checking switches, perhaps returning home several times to do so. Obsessive compulsive disorder (OCD) can take many forms – it is not just about cleaning and checking.

Suicidal feelings

Young people may experience complicated thoughts and feelings about wanting to end their own lives. Some young people never act on these feelings though they may openly discuss and explore them, while other young people die suddenly from suicide apparently out of the blue.

Eating problems

Food, weight and shape may be used as a way of coping with, or communicating about, difficult thoughts, feelings and behaviours that a young person experiences day to day. Some young people develop eating disorders such as anorexia (where food intake is restricted), binge eating disorder and bulimia nervosa (a cycle of bingeing and purging). Other young people, particularly those of primary or preschool age, may develop problematic behaviours around food including refusing to eat in certain situations or with certain people.

This can be a way of communicating messages the child does not have the words to convey.

Procedure

An assessment of immediate risk will be made by the Phase Leader. Any concerns should be recorded on CPOMs.

Where a concern about a pupil's mental health is identified, the Phase Leader will assess the risks to that pupil's welfare. Other professionals may also be involved in this process:

- DSL
- SENCo
- Class/Form Teacher

A decision will be taken as to whether any further action is required; this may include:

- Immediate medical assistance
- Contacting parents where appropriate
- Arranging professional assistance e.g. doctor/nurse
- Arranging an appointment with a counsellor
- Giving advice to parents, teachers and other pupils

The Phase Leader or another appropriate member of staff will discuss the matter with the pupil to develop a strategy to support and assist them. Support for the friends of the affected pupil, will also be considered, where appropriate.

SEMH Plan

Phase Leaders will draw up an individual care plan (SEMH Plan) to support pupils whose mental health and wellbeing is of concern or who receive a diagnosis pertaining to their mental health. This should be drawn up involving the pupil, the parents and relevant health professionals. This can include:

- Details of a pupil's condition
- Special requirements and precautions
- Medication and any side effects
- What to do, and who to contact in an emergency
- The role the school can play

Where it is decided that support and/or intervention is required, the Phase Leader will ensure that the pupil is monitored and periodically review the Care Plan seeking feedback from the pupil, parents and members of staff, as necessary.

The review will include consideration as to whether further intervention and/or external referrals are required.

Confidentiality and information sharing

Pupils may choose to confide in a member of staff if they are concerned about their own welfare or that of a peer. Pupils should be made aware that it may not be possible for staff to offer complete confidentiality. If a member of staff considers a pupil to be at serious risk of harm, then confidentiality cannot be kept and the concern must be shared with the DSL or Phase Leader. It is important not to make promises of confidentiality that cannot be kept even if a pupil puts pressure on a member of staff to do so. A pupil may disclose at the medical centre in the first instance. This gives the medical team a key role in identifying mental health issues early. Confidentiality will be maintained within the boundaries of safeguarding the pupil and guidelines on information sharing. Varying grades of 'notes' can be recorded on CPOMs in order to ensure the safety and wellbeing of the pupil and others who may be affected by their actions.

Working with Parents

Where it is deemed appropriate to inform parents, we need to be sensitive in our approach. Before disclosing to parents, we should consider the following questions (on a case by case basis):

- Can the meeting happen face to face? This is preferable.
- Where should the meeting happen? At school, at their home or somewhere neutral?
- Who should be present? Consider parents, the student, other members of staff.
- What are the aims of the meeting?

It can be shocking and upsetting for parents to learn of their child's issues and many may respond with anger, fear or be upset during the first conversation. We should be accepting of this (within reason) and give the parent time to reflect.

We should always highlight further sources of information and give them leaflets to take away where possible as they will often find it hard to take much in whilst coming to terms with the news that you are sharing. Sharing sources of further support aimed specifically at parents can also be helpful too e.g. parent helplines and forums.

Meetings should finish with agreed next step and records of meetings should be added to the child's confidential record.

Training

All staff will receive regular training about recognising and responding to mental and emotional health issues as part of their regular child protection training to enable them to keep pupils safe. Suggestions for individual, group or whole school CPD should be discussed with the Phase Leaders and Mental First Aiders who can also highlight sources of relevant training and support for individuals as needed.

APPENDIX 1

Support for Children

YoungMinds

YoungMinds is the UK's leading charity committed to improving the emotional wellbeing and mental health of children and young people. Just as people's bodies can become unwell, people's minds can become unwell too. Mental health problems are more common than you think. Three children in every classroom have a mental health problem. Young Minds offer information to young people and children about mental health and emotional wellbeing. If you need to talk, they can let you know about organisations that listen, plus they offer online support info.

Kooth

Kooth provides free online support for young people. Kooth counsellors are online Monday-Friday, 12 noon - 10pm and weekends, 6pm-10pm. You can speak to counsellors, read articles written by young people, get support from the Kooth community, write in a daily journal. XenZone is a provider of online mental health services for children, young people and adults. Kooth from XenZone, is an online counselling and emotional wellbeing platform for children and young people, accessible through mobile, tablet and desktop and free at the point of use.

ChildLine

ChildLine is the UK's free helpline for children and young people. It provides a confidential telephone counselling service for any child or young person with a problem. It comforts, advises and protects. So, if you are worried about anything big or small do not bottle it up. It can really help if you talk to someone. If there is something on your mind, ChildLine is there for you. You can visit the ChildLine explore section for advice and information on a range of topics. Also, you can get support on the online message boards.
